- Shiyun: When you think about food, who is the first person you think about?
- Aaron: Myself? (Be)cause it's important to take care of ourselves before another (person).
- Shiyun: Have you cooked on your own?
- Aaron: Yes. Like eggs, maggi (noodles) and nuggets.
- Shiyun: If you have to think of a person, and this is not yourself. Who do you think about first?
- Aaron: Grandparents. (Be)cause they (are) born first, then us.
- Shiyun: You think about them first because... you want to give them food first?
- Aaron: Yes.

Shiyun: When you think about someone cooking for you, who is this person?

Aaron: My grandmother and my father.

Shiyun: Your nenek (grandmother) is the one that cooks every day?

Aaron: Yes.

Shiyun: She didn't want to do this project because she's too tired.

Aaron: Yea, she only rest on Saturday and Sunday. All day work.

Shiyun: What is her work?

Aaron: Laundry.

Shiyun: So... every day, she cooks also?

Aaron: Yes.

Shiyun: That means, in the morning she will cook.

Aaron: Yes.

Shiyun: And then you will eat when you come back. That means she will have to wake up very early.

Aaron: Yes.

Shiyun: Do you know what time she wakes up?

Aaron: Very early. Not sure.

Shiyun: Do you go out and eat with your family?

Aaron: Sometimes, sometimes not. Like when (it is) my birthday - I don't know when is it - my grandmother brought us to McDonald's and we eat there.

Shiyun: So, McDonald's is for birthday, special occasion.

Aaron: Ya.

Shiyun: What does she cook every day?

Aaron: Rice! Every day...I love curry, asam pedas, chicken curry.

Shiyun: If there is something you want to learn from your father, which dish will it be?

Aaron: Chicken curry.

Shiyun: Is that your favourite?

Aaron: Yes.

Aaron: My name is Aaron, I love to play skate, volleyball. Sometimes exercise at home.
